Allied School of Health

Health Information Management Program

Annual Outcomes Assessment Report

The 2010-2011 Annual Program Assessment Report (APAR) indicated AHIMA reported the national mean passing rate of students who took the RHIT exam was 75%. Hodges University graduates who took the national certification exam had a pass rate of 100%.

Accredited programs are also required to routinely survey healthcare entities that employ HIM professionals to assess employer satisfaction of graduates. CAHIM requires a satisfaction rating of at least 80%. For the same APAR period employer satisfaction of Hodges University graduates is 100%.